

Enterprise-grade, all-in-one, work anywhere managed IT services

astreya

As a Managed IT Service Provider we offer cost-effective yet high-touch services delivered on-premise or remote, anywhere on the globe.

Our IT services give you the ability to deliver exceptional and cost-effective IT Support. A reality that will fundamentally strengthen your IT infrastructure, keep your data safe, your network humming, and end-users productive no matter where you are in your digital workplace journey.

TECHBAR

Astreya Tech Bar delivers real-time, in-person, on-site support to ensure your IT department can focus on more critical tasks and your users are satisfied and productive. Our Tech Bar team can provide real-time resolution and support for your end-user smartphones, tablets, laptops, peripheral equipment, and accessories.

VIDEO CONFERENCE

In the modern workplace, collaboration, in large part, is centered around video conferencing. Astreya's experienced and innovative audiovisual team will design your optimum video conference IT support blend to achieve a new reality of always-available, high-performance video communications.

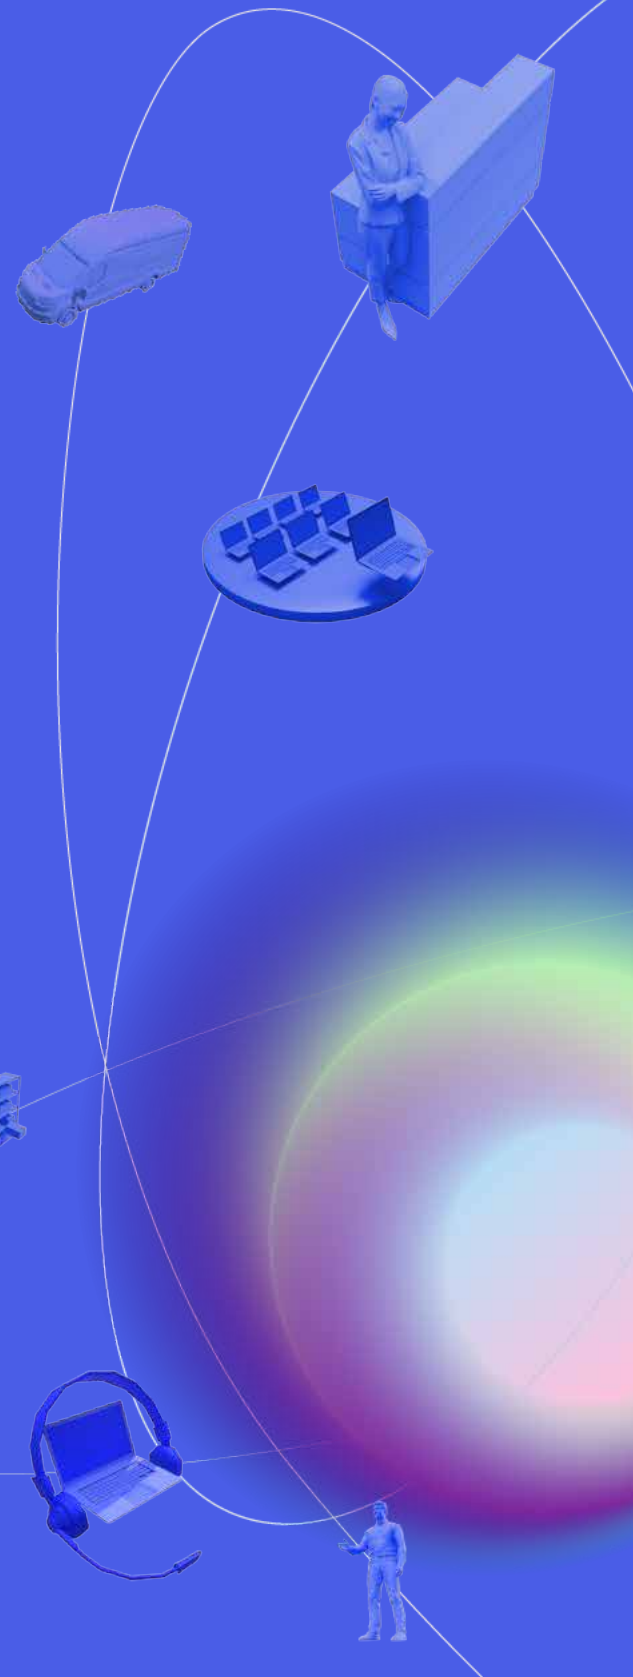

ASSET MANAGEMENT

Despite all the approvals and checkpoints large companies put into place, getting IT assets into (and out of) the hands of your team is often slow and inefficient. Our asset management services provide you with real-time, transparent visibility into IT the asset lifecycle to provide a start-to-finish, 360-degree view of each device.

SMART DELIVERY

Astreya Smart Delivery Services provides solutions to the "last mile" challenges with delivering solutions to your team. From our onsite Smart Lockers to our mobile Smart Vans (with an equally smart IT Tech behind the wheel), we effectively extend the ability to keep your end-users happy and productive no matter where they're located.

Maximize operational efficiency with a holistic and seamless solution to modern IT service delivery.

For fast-growing organizations, supporting the rapidly evolving day-to-day IT end-user demands while aligning to long-term growth and efficiency initiatives is not for the faint of heart.

The new work-from-home reality doesn't help. It adds yet another mission-threatening layer to an already challenged IT Service delivery reality. For IT leaders, this brave new world raises some brand new fears. We get it.

The fact is, Astreya's ability to uniquely service and support hyper-growth companies on a global basis is in our Silicon Valley DNA. We currently provide innovative IT Managed Services to the seven largest companies in Silicon Valley. These valued and tenured partnerships have created repeatable and proven service models and modern delivery frameworks. When you combine our exceptional processes and methodologies with equally smart and passionate Astreya associates, one thing becomes quite clear: adding Astreya IT Managed Services to your strategic stack opens a new world of opportunity.

We're proud to be a part of the modern IT service delivery movement and even prouder of the companies making this journey with us.
