

Astreya Cloud Infrastructure and Implementation.

Build a cloud environment that optimizes your business.

In today's environment companies are moving to the cloud at a rapid pace, but every company has its own specific needs for its cloud environment. It's critical to have the right infrastructure and implementation to execute a cloud solution that's right for your business and isn't impacting your company's bottom line with unnecessary costs.

What should you do?

Build a cloud environment that's scalable and enhances your company's productivity and innovation.

26%
of enterprises
identify cloud cost management as a significant challenge.

Follow a process that ensures your cloud environment is what your business needs

Astreya delivers a seamless and scalable cloud solution.

Our solution works by transitioning to a public, private, or hybrid cloud and managing infrastructure and implementation to support your environment including network, storage, computer, and middleware.

Our solution includes:

Design, size, and build out of your cloud environment

Evaluation of co-location options to create your own customized hybrid cloud solution

Agile-based migration methodology and tools

Deployment and management to stable state

Validation of security profiles for your workload