

Astreya Cloud Strategy and Assessment.

Assess your business to create an effective cloud strategy.

In today's environment cloud technologies have matured offering different services within the cloud ecosystem - IaaS, PaaS, and SaaS. When moving to the cloud it's critical to assess your environment to navigate pitfalls and risks for a successful journey that meets your business needs.

What should you do?

Clearly understand your business challenges and identify realistic cloud services based on compelling requirements, skills set assessments, and a realistic budget in order to follow a cloud assessment and strategy process effectively.

Companies choose to architect for the cloud because it's:

Cost effective

Latest gen technology

Scalable, resilient, and effective

Effective process for successful cloud assessment and strategy:

Discover and assess business technical requirements

Understand desires and end goals

Select the right cloud provider

Determine the architecture

Create tailored engagement approach to cloud architecture delivery

Astreya's tailored cloud strategy and assessment services will layout the optimum approach to support your business goals.

Our approach helps you unlock the true potential of the cloud and make the right cloud investments, performance of your video conference technology and equipment.

Our solution includes:

Cloud readiness and transformation assets

Cloud transformation assessments

Architecture and design

Workload mapping and TCO prediction

Cloud transformation and implementation roadmaps