

Astreya Inventory Management.

Get maximized value from your inventory

In today's environment managing inventory and having visibility throughout the life of a company's assets can be challenging. What's worse, ineffective inventory management leads to lost inventory and an inability to track the chain of custody on assets resulting in not being able to maximize the effectiveness of a company's assets.

What should you do?

Set policies and use an approach that ensures your company is managing its inventory efficiently and effectively to ensure compliance and proper tracking to avoid overages and stockouts.

Bad inventory management results in:

Stockouts

Overages

Inventory Loss

Effective inventory management benefits:

Saves time and money

Inventory Security and Visibility

Increases user productivity

Increases accuracy of inventory orders

Astreya's inventory management solution provides management and governance to ensure compliance and effective tracking.

We deploy best in class systems, tools, and processes to monitor, maintain, and efficiently manage all tangible assets and accessories.

Our solution includes:

Real time visibility into full asset life cycle

Management of all assets throughout the asset life cycle

Tools and systems automation to enable scalability, efficiency, and inventory accuracy

Predictive analytics to accurately forecast product availability and control cost

Reduced capital outlay with VMI/VCI recommendations

Strong policies and measures to drive inventory security
